

How to get to Perceptive Content

Desktop Application

You will see a yellow globe either in the lower right task manager on your PC or on the desktop.

You can also try hitting your windows key and typing in Perceptive Content to see if it shows up.

If you need the desktop application but don't have it on your PC, you can use Remote Desktop to access WSCEMPTERM1.

Perceptive Experience

If you have a Mac or you don't have access to Perceptive Content on your PC, you can use the web/mobile version of the software at <https://webnow.worcester.edu/experience>

Perceptive Content Off-campus:

This software requires a connection to the WSU network. If you are away from campus, you can connect to the campus network vpn.

For instructions, navigate to <https://apps.worcester.edu/vpn/> and follow the "Setting Up Remote Desktop Software for Mac."

Note that if you are on a campus network you can ignore the VPN instructions.
